Seeländer, Nicolaus.

Augustissimas ac serenissimas gentis brunsvico lüneburgensis numismata ac monetæ auriatæ recentioria maximam partem in aea incipit a Nic. Seeländer. Hannoverae, typis Culemannianis, 1853.

11 p. 151 pl. 42".
The coins shown in this work formed part of the collection of G. W. Molanus, who had them engraved in copper by Nicolaus Seeländer. After Molanus' death his entire collection came into the possession of J. C. Rüchert, under whom Seeländer seems to have continued his work. In 1744 King George II. bought all the coins relating to Brunswick-Lüneburg with the engravings. This collection formed the nucleus of the Royal mint cabinet at Hanover and is at present in the Provincial-museum at Hanover. (Continued on next card)

Selden, John, 1584-1654.

Mare clausum; the right and dominion of the sea in two books. In the first the sea is proved by the law of nature and nations, not to be common to all men, but to be susceptible of private dominion and propriety as well as the land. In the second, it is asserted that the most serene King of Great Britain is the lord and proprietor of the circumference and surrounding sea, as an inseparable and perpetual appendix of the British empire. Written at first in Latin by that late famous and learned antiquary John Selden ... Formerly translated into English, and now perfected and restored by

The senatorial triumvirate, whose self-appointed mission seems to be the destruction of public confidence in President Grant, after passing through the entire gamut of slander, finally culminated by the introduction of a resolution in the Senate on the 12th inst., by Senator
Sumner, the preamble of which insinuates the gravest

(Reproductions in facsimile precede regular editions)

Shakespeare, William, 1564-1616.

Shakespeare. The first collected edition of the dramatic works of William Shakespeare. A reproduction in exact facsimile of the famous first folio, 1623, by the newly discovered process of photo-lithography, executed by express permission of Lord Ellesmere and the Trustees of the British Museum, from the matchless copies in Bridgewater House and in the national library, at the suggestion, and under the superintendence of H. Stanton, R. W. Preston, photo-lith. London, Day & son, limited, 1906.

1 p. l. facsim. 9 p. l. 300, 100 (i. e. 400), 2, 60-252, 1, 78-80, 25, 98 p. l. 1, 189-196, 257-309 p. 40 x 24 1/2".
